We take great pride in our partnership with Sanquin, established in 2022. These exquisite socks are available for blood donors.

The speaker is Claudia van der Pijll, Communications at Sanquin.

Claudia: "The interaction with Sokkies has been exceedingly pleasant. Mike is precise and meticulous, making collaboration enjoyable." ## Distinctive magnetic socks for the NS

Together with NS, we have created what may be the most iconic socks ever. The inquiry: "Is it possible to design socks with magnetic arms, allowing us to connect them together?"

That is an excellent inquiry; we genuinely had no certainty regarding our ability to accomplish this. Therefore, we proceeded to experiment. It began with the creation of arms, followed by the incorporation of magnets within those arms. Excessively fat, excessively thin, excessively soft. It required some time, but we are all the more proud of the final outcome.

The crowning achievement was receiving a delightful video from the Dutch Railways (NS).

This video was pivotal to their campaign during the Christmas and Valentine's Day

Christmas stockings for DHL

The esteemed team at DHL delivers countless packages for Sokkies annually; it is now our turn to send a package to them.

In their quest for a distinctive gift for the Christmas package, DHL approached us. They sought to produce custom socks in the DHL house style.

An exemplary gift for interns that has garnered positive feedback.

It was intended to be a vibrant event in the signature style of DHL, characterized by its bright yellow and red lettering. Consequently, we created a design featuring yellow Christmas ornaments that prominently display the distinctive brand identity. The gift packaging and the accompanying Christmas message on the card are also entirely in line with DHL's aesthetic. A truly unique package!

DHL has opted to have the socks delivered in packaged form, prepared for distribution during the holiday season.

Peter Kuijpers of DHL states:

"The socks have proven to be exceptional. Numerous photos are circulating internally among employees who find them fantastic. They are certainly worth repeating!"

Socks that journey across the globe for Boskalis

For the employees of Boskalis, a vibrant pair of socks in the company's colors was desired, along with an inquiry regarding worldwide shipping. No problem!

How does this function?

Boskalis encountered a sock design online that they wished to replicate. This clear input was integrated with the brand's aesthetic, resulting in a vibrant and cheerful design.

Following the approval of the sock designs, we proceeded to create the gift boxes, labels, and cards, ensuring they aligned cohesively with the socks. The boxes and cards feature a message from Boskalis to their staff, reflecting the company's branding and preferences. Subsequently, all items are packed, labeled, and distributed globally through the PostNL network.

The socks were intended for the staff on the "Day of the Seafarer." In total, we dispatched over 1,000 packages to no fewer than 32 countries. For the first time, Boskalis Socks reached Mexico, South Africa, the Philippines, Argentina, Lithuania, and Sri Lanka.
